Installation Instructions

Note: In order to install and use this handset, you must have a USRobotics model 9630 Cordless Skype Dual Phone base station installed. For more information, see the Quick Installation Guide that came with your model 9630 Cordless Skype Dual Phone.

The Cordless Skype Dual Phone base station can support up to four handsets. To add a handset, you first need to charge the batteries. Once the batteries are charged, you must register the handset to the base station and select the country in which you will use the handset.

Charge the Batteries

The batteries must be charged for 14 hours before you use the handset for the first time. Use only the batteries that came with the handset.

1. Connect the charger adapter to an electrical outlet.
2. Remove the battery compartment cover by sliding it toward the bottom of the handset.
3. Insert the batteries, observing their polarities, into the battery compartment and replace the cover.
4. Set the handset in the charger and let the batteries charge for 14 hours.
5. The handset may become warm during initial charging.

Register the Handset

Registration establishes a connection between the handset and the base station.

1. Turn on the handset by pressing  until text appears on the screen.

If the handset displays UNREGISTERED, you need to register the handset with the base station.

If the handset displays the time of day, the handset is already registered; skip registration and continue with “Select Your Country” on page 4.

2. Press MENU.
The handset displays ADVANCED SET > REGISTRATION.
3. Press and hold the paging key on the base station until the In Use LED starts blinking.
4. The base station is now in registration mode. Press OK.

5. If the handset prompts you for a PIN, enter the PIN and press OK.
The default PIN is 0000.

During the registration period, the handset displays SEARCH BASE. At the end of the registration period, the handset indicates whether the registration was successful or not:

- Successful registration—You hear a confirmation tone, and the  icon stops flashing. The handset displays its label, number, and clock.

Select Your Country

The COUNTRY option selects the correct telephone network settings and the default language for the country that you select. If your phone does not have a COUNTRY option, the handset already is configured for the country in which it was sold. Follow the steps below to determine whether you have a COUNTRY option and, if so, to set it.

1. Press MENU.
2. Select ADVANCED SET and press OK.
3. Press  to scroll to the COUNTRY option and press OK.
4. If there is no COUNTRY option, you are finished installing your handset.

U.S. Robotics Corporation
935 National Parkway
Schaumburg, IL 60173
U.S.A.

Declares that this product conforms to the FCC Part 15, Class B specifications. This equipment complies with FCC Part 15 for Home and Office use.

FCC Equipment Approval Information

Your telephone equipment is approved for connection to the Public Switched Telephone Network and is in compliance with parts 15 and 68, FCC Rules and Regulations and the Technical Requirements for Telephone Terminal Equipment published by ACTA.

On the bottom of this equipment is a label indicating, among other information, the US number and Ringer Equivalence Number (REN) for the equipment. You must, upon request, provide this information to your telephone company.

The REN is used to determine the number of devices that may be connected to a telephone line. Excessive RENs on a telephone line may result in the devices not ringing in response to an incoming call. In most but not all areas, the sum of RENs should not exceed five (5.0). To be certain of the number of devices that may be connected to a line, as determined by the total RENs, contact the local telephone company.

A plug and jack used to connect this equipment to the premises wiring and telephone network must comply with the applicable FCC Part 68 rules and requirements adopted by the ACTA. A compliant telephone cord modular plug is provided with this product. It is designed to be connected to a compatible modular jack that is also compliant. See this document for details.

Regulatory Information

- This equipment may not be used on coin service provided by the telephone company.
- Party lines are subject to state tariffs, and therefore, you may not be able to use your own telephone equipment if you are on a party line. Check with your local telephone company.
- Notice must be given to the telephone company upon permanent disconnection of your telephone from your line.
- If your home has specially wired alarm equipment connected to the telephone line, ensure the installation of this product does not disable your alarm equipment. If you have questions about what will disable alarm equipment, consult your telephone company or a qualified installer.

Should your equipment cause trouble on your line which may harm the telephone network, the telephone company shall, where practicable, notify you that temporary discontinuance of service may be required. Where prior notice is not practicable and the circumstances warrant such action, the telephone company may temporarily discontinue service immediately. In case of such temporary discontinuance, the telephone company must:

- (1) promptly notify you of such temporary discontinuance;
- (2) afford you the opportunity to correct the situation; and
- (3) inform you of your right to bring a complaint to the Commission pursuant to procedures set forth in Subpart E or Part 68, FCC Rules and Regulations.

The telephone company may make changes in its communications facilities, equipment, operations or procedures where such action is required in the operation of its business and not inconsistent with FCC Rules and Regulations. If these changes are expected to affect the use or performance of your telephone equipment, the telephone company must give you adequate notice, in writing, to allow you to maintain uninterrupted service.

These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy. If this equipment is not installed and used in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions, it may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.

Noise

Electrical pulse noise is present at one time or another. This is most intense during electrical storms. Certain kinds of electrical equipment, such as light dimmers, fluorescent bulbs, motors, fans, etc., also generate pulse noise. Because radio frequencies are susceptible to this, you may on occasion hear pulse noise through the receiver. This is usually only a minor annoyance and should not be interpreted as a defect of the unit.

FCC Radiation Exposure Statement

This equipment complies with FCC RF radiation exposure limits set forth for an uncontrolled environment. This equipment is in direct contact with the body of the user under normal operating conditions. This transmitter must not be co-located or operating in conjunction with any other antenna or transmitter. For hand held operation, this phone has been tested and meets the FCC RF exposure guidelines. Use of other accessories may not ensure compliance with FCC RF exposure guidelines.

For Canadian Users

Industry Canada (IC)

Notice: This equipment meets the applicable Industry Canada Terminal Equipment Technical Specifications. This is confirmed by the registration number. The abbreviation, IC, before the registration number signifies that registration was performed based on a Declaration of Conformity indicating that Industry Canada technical specifications were met. It does not imply that Industry Canada approved the equipment.

Notice: The Ringer Equivalence Number (REN) for this terminal equipment is marked on the equipment. The REN assigned to each terminal equipment provides an indication of the maximum number of terminals allowed to be connected to a telephone interface. The termination on an interface may consist of any combination of devices subject only to the requirement that the sum of the Ringer Equivalence Numbers of all the devices does not exceed five.

The term “IC:” before the radio certification number only signifies that Industry Canada technical specifications were met. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:

- (1) this device may not cause interference, and
- (2) this device must accept any interference, including interference that may cause undesired operation of the device.

Do not attempt to repair or modify this equipment:

Repairs to certified equipment should be made by an authorized maintenance facility designated by the supplier. Any repairs or alterations made by the user to the equipment may render the equipment void in product warranty and compliance. This could also void the user's authority to operate the equipment.
